2. What is the NatureArt collection?

“NatureArt” " is an NFT art collection that presents a compilation of works created by photographer David Alfaro, a retrospective of the last 10 years of his career, based on photographs taken in different parts of the Americas and Spain, using part of his photographic portfolio and resorting to digital media to create alternative environments that invite imagination and reflection.

The collection presents the vision of one of El Salvador's most renowned environmental photographers and unfolds a fantastic world loaded with a great symbolic richness in fascinating pieces, proposing an environmental portrait of our times and possible futures, celebrating the beauty and colours of nature in a new and unique way.

“NatureArt” is a limited collection of 91 images created using compositional techniques, light and shadow perspectives sometimes unrealistic and inspired by nature, but addressing fragility, chaos and beauty through a surreal mix of radiant colours, atmospheres and textures, evoking sensations and provoking emotions, meticulously created as virtual art, transforming reality into an NFT.

The artist defines the work created for this NFT collection as environmentalist surreal photography, blurring the boundaries between photography and the vectorisation of space, where natural motifs and sweet shapes are mixed and counterbalanced with disturbing textures, singular colours and sordid tones, which he uses as recurring elements.

The whole process from the taking of the photograph, editing and effects with which the images are treated are the author's creation, without the intervention of Artificial Intelligence, being a long creative process for each work, with the aim of achieving a unique and exclusive art.

“Business wind-up”

Conceived as complementary work to the NatureArt collection, the triptych Business wind-up is inspired by the passing times, times that are happening to wildlife, as a glimpse of possible futures that are more likely than ever. Here the author intentionally proposes to reflect on our interaction with nature. He brings the viewer in front of a merciless representation of our reality, expressing contemporary unrest and questioning the future of the species.

7. Rewards for purchasing art from the “NatureArt” collection

a. Donation Rewards

In addition to the artistic and visual purpose of the exhibition, the intention is to promote interest in nature conservation and the fight against climate change, the challenges posed by pollution, deforestation, the progressive destruction of natural habitats and the protection of different endangered species.

To achieve this objective, part of the sale of the exhibited works in format 2 with digital frame and author's signature, equivalent to 10% of the profits obtained by each work sold in its first sale, will be donated to support non-profit organisations in some of the countries in which the photographs were taken, namely: El Salvador, Costa Rica, Ecuador and Spain. Although this donation will always be made automatically, the person who purchases a NatureArt Format 2 work can decide to which of the 4 proposed environmental organisations it will be donated.

The organisations from which you can choose to donate are the following:

- Fundación Zoológica de El Salvador FUNZEL.
El Salvador sea turtle conservation project.
